

My dear Full Time mom,

What can be more fulfilling and joyful as feel yourself loved? What can be more satisfying and absolutely unselfish as giving this love to others and particularly to your own kids? You have been giving, and giving, and giving and time was flying by and babies become toddlers then kids, then preschoolers, then ... and what becomes of you my dear mom?

Once upon a time you have been dreaming about being a teacher, a doctor, a writer, a cook, an artist, a veterinarian, or your own boss and entrepreneur. You went to college, graduated, met your future husband, and started dreaming other dreams, planning other plans, entering full scale adult life and motherhood almost overnight.

There is a right time for everything, “time to sow and time to reap”, time to take and time to give, time to spend and time to provide, time to be managed and time to manage your life and your destiny and fulfill dreams you dreamed before because they never went away. It is absolutely insignificant how old you are, what is essential is how ready you are to start living life, experiencing yourself professionally, to re-discover your true potential, be an example of courage, inspiration and determination to your family and kids.

When you are ready to experience who you really are, let me know, and I will help you all the way.
